Ogres and giants, bogeymen and bugaboos embody some of our deepest fears, dominating popular fiction, from tales such as 'Jack the Giant Killer' to the cannibal monster Hannibal Lecter, from the Titans of Greek mythology to the dinosaurs of JURASSIC PARK, from Frankenstein TO MEN IN BLACK. Following her brilliant study of fairy tales, FROM THE BEAST TO THE BLONDE, Marina Warner's rich, enthralling new book explores the ever increasing presence of such figures of male terror, and the stratagems we invent to allay the monsters we conjure up -from horror stories to lullabies and jokes. Travelling from ogres to cradle songs, from bananas to cannibals, Warner traces the roots of our commonest anxieties, unravelling with vigorous intelligence, creative originality and relish, the myths and fears which define our sensibilities. Illustrated with a wealth of images - from the beautiful and the bizarre to the downright scary -this is a tour de force of scholarship and imagination.

This early work by Ellis Stanyon was originally published in 1900. 'New Juggling Tricks' is a guide to the methods and techniques used in the art of juggling. Stanyon published and edited Stanyon's Magic, a magazine intended to popularize the art of the magician.

Every year in China millions of migrant workers leave their rural villages to find jobs in the cities. Through the lives of two young 'factory girls' this book explores the day-to-day reality of life for these migrant workers.

Medication is an important part of treating illness. However it can be complicated and there are risks. This manual was designed to help the safe and effective use of medicines in remote health centres. This is particularly relevant for Aboriginal health workers.

The author takes a fresh look at time, unraveling its many mysteries and looking back at cycles of time that are lost to modern humans. Reprint. 12,500 first printing.

This is a collection of favourite old jokes and anecdotes from all walks of life, including his beloved cricket, which Johnners made just before his death in 1994. Brian Johnston was one of the funniest and most popular raconteurs and after-dinner speakers as well as one of the greatest broadcasters of his generation.

Beth and Darren are two researchers who are sent to determine the possible value in deserted mines. They have done this a hundred times before, and know they will do it a hundred times again. Or will they? Their innocent trespass into Site 184 is the catalyst to a series of events that is both unexplainable and fascinating. It marks the fierce struggle against time, space and life.

They number in the millions and they are incredibly important to families and to our society, yet they are underappreciated, little respected, and even controversial. Who are they? They are the stay-at-home moms. These are women who know in their hearts that staying home to raise their children is the right choice for the whole family. Some do it from the outset of their marriages, while others make the difficult transition from career-driven women to homemakers. Either way, it is a choice that is incredibly rich and rewarding, not to mention challenging. Now Dr. Laura, building on principles developed during her long career as a licensed marriage and family therapist, provides a wealth of advice and support, as well as compassion and inspiration, to women as they navigate the wonders and struggles of being stay-at-home moms. Learn how: to hold your head high and deal with naysayers; to see the benefits of being home not only for your children but also for your marriage; to understand the changes you see in yourself; to realize that the sacrifices you endure now will make for lasting bonds and a stronger family, in addition to a more cohesive community. In Praise of Stay-at-Home Moms is a special book, a profound and unique understanding of how important it is for mothers to raise their own children.
